Red Cross swimming

Jennifer Herrick, with eyes shut tight and holding her nose, prepares to join Alison Alexander, first to take the plunge at Stuart's Last Stand, Cundy's Harbor. Waiting their turn are other advanced beginners and Roscoe Scott, one of the instructors for this two weeks swimming program under the Brunswick Chapter, American Red Cross. There are five classes daily, others being for beginners, intermediates, juniors and junior life savers. Mrs. Dawnna Black and Pat Taylor are other instructors. Similar classes have been completed at Lowell's Cove, Orr's Island; at South Harpswell, and at Stoddard Pond, Bowdoinham. (Alice Brown photo)
