

The Baptist Church, West Harpswell, Maine.

Feb. 21, 1939.

Dear Mrs. Hamilton:

We are glad that you enjoyed the quarterlys and Jan. Book. We were sorry not to see you but hope to get down again some day.

The minister is sick. Some of his people are with him now. We hope to see you in church soon.

Love + best wishes
from Mrs. Durgan.

My dear Mrs. Austin,
 Have you read "Open Shutters"? The picture on the card is the "Jule" side the book refers to. We are having such beautiful weather. The table is fine fish, clams, Lobsters, Corn, and is as good as a two dollar a day hotel. It is very quiet, and so far from Lowell and I am the only one in the dining room. Wish you might come here for a rest. And that you would love the place.
 Sincerely
 Annie Hart
